

GUIDE TO MY CELTIC HOUSEHOLD

As we move into the next stage of planning for the potential return of supporters to Celtic Park, we need to confirm who are the Season Ticket holders in your household and/or extended household so we can be as prepared as possible for when the time comes to welcome you back to Paradise.

Gathering this information will help us understand the desired seating requirements for each Celtic Household – from those who require an individual seat, to groups of up to six. One Season Ticket holder can fill this in for the group, and each Season Ticket holder can only be registered to one Celtic Household.

My Celtic Household is defined as “all Season Ticket holders living in your household and/or your extended household.”

An Extended Household is currently defined by the Scottish Government as: one where two households have joined together to form a single household. An Extended Household can be formed by a person who lives alone - or only with children under 18. They and another household of any size can agree to form an extended household. An Extended Household can also be formed by a couple who do not live together, and their children.
